
bauma TV and broadcasting service

Are you planning a television report? We can help you put together your editorial reports or provide raw materials and text information.

TV service

Whether you are a TV network or an Internet portal: Our TV team is there for you and can provide you professionally produced reports, podcasts that are fully edited for picture and sound or as rough cuts with TC lists and moderator texts, which you can download to all commercially available player versions or order on the medium of your choice.

Our TV services are produced by Mediabox TV on behalf of Messe München International.

Broadcasting service

Our radio team will be on the go for you at bauma to cover a wide range of industry topics.

From sound-bite packages to finished reports: We can provide all the audio materials that you need to produce your report!

Our audio materials in broadcast quality (MP3) are available in our download area free of charge. We would appreciate it if you could inform us when our materials are used.

Original sound bites and finished reports for download

Broadcasting studio in Press Center West

If you want to do your own radio productions at the fair, then come talk to us in the broadcasting studio at the west end of the exhibition center, directly above the Press Center. The studio is fully equipped with all the latest digital technology, and you can process your reports, do recordings and even broadcast live from the studio with the support of our technical team.
